

Call for Papers

Share your engagement successes as a Case Study at Engagement Australia's premier conference for engagement professionals working in, or with higher education institutions.

2025 Conference Theme: Transformational Partnerships: Creating Lasting Impacts

Abstracts are welcomed from higher education academic, teaching and professional staff, students, industry, and community representatives on the following topics:

1. Case studies on impactful university-community partnerships: Share your cases on any of the 4 following themes:
 - a. Engaging with community groups or organisations
 - b. Engaging with industry
 - c. Engaging with government
 - d. Engaging across industry, government, and community

2. Case studies on evaluation of impactful partnership: Share your examples of contemporary approaches to partnership evaluation.

Format

Case studies

To create an inclusive forum for discussion and learning we strongly encourage co-presenting of case studies by university staff and their community partners.

Each case study presentation will be allocated 20 minutes total, and we recommend allocating time at the end for audience Q&A.

Submissions

Interested presenters must submit a brief abstract of their topic, no more than 500 words. Please include the name of the section you are submitting to (including sub-theme if submitting to 'impactful university-community partnerships'. Please include a title and key contact information with your submissions and send via email to admin@engagementaustralia.org.au by COB Friday 9th May. Authors will be notified of acceptance or rejection of their submission by Monday 26th May.
